PUBLIC COMMENTARY

The meeting started with Mr. Bañuelos introducing Mr. J. B. Reilly and Mr. Jon Strauss from The Real Estate Lab for their presentation. Mr. Reilly started his presentation by discussing a program called The Real Estate Lab and how this will help Allentown and the Housing Authority. He discussed how this is aimed at young people and getting them involved in real estate and entrepreneurship by helping teach them investing, purchasing and managing properties in the Allentown community. He added that this might help identify properties in the Housing Authority portfolio as part of the Authority potentially divesting properties not part of our strategic plan because of management difficulties or size of property. He continued, we would like to work with the Housing Authority on buying some of these properties for this group of buyers and work with you to identify these properties. We would also like to work on an arrangement to buy them and follow those properties with this group of aspiring investors. There was a discussion by the Board of this presentation.

Mr. Bañuelos introduced the next presentation from Mandy Merchant with CliftonLarsonAllen, LLP the AHA auditors. She reviewed the 2019 audit for the Board. She concluded by stating that the single audit report had no financial statement findings. She stated that an issue with a high inventory balance would be put in the management letter comments. The inventory balance is significantly higher this year she told the Board, and we will address this and assess what should be in inventory and what the true balance is. She told the Board that we will be sending you a communication letter detailing our responsibility under accepted audit standards and a management representation letter. The Board discussed the audit presentation.

The meeting moved on to the Annual Plan public hearing with Mr. Bañuelos reading the information related to the Annual Plan and the review of the plan from the Resident Advisory Board meeting held on February 7, 2020. There were no members of the Resident Advisory Board present at the meeting today or general public present at the meeting. As there were no Resident Advisory Board members present to discuss the Annual Plan, Mr. Bañuelos closed the hearing and resumed the regular meeting.

We are working with Constellation and will be meeting with them soon to discuss compliance with the contract. He continued, we have submitted an application for the Foster Youth Initiative which needs to be participant specific. We have had our two participants pass the first review. We are working on a program with the United Way called Women United to increase economic stability for women and this application is due in March. We are doing an employee survey next week and will have information for the Board later.

Mr. Farrell discussed the parcel of land that the Housing Authority is trying to purchase which is between the 8th Street Bridge and Little Lehigh and is owned by the city. He continued, there is a restrictive covenant on that parcel and our solicitor, Mr. Perrucci is researching getting this restriction lifted. He told the Board, the city wants to put a billboard on it and that is the problem. The Board discussed several ways this can be handled.

The Social Services Director, Ms. Aclo told the Board the Census people have come out to our sites to do tutorials on what the census survey is going to look like, how to do it online or by mail and answering any questions or concerns from residents.
